

BANDITS ARE CAUGHT AFTER LONG PURSUIT

Exhausted by Effort to Escape, Desperadoes at Last Submit to the Law.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 14.—Without firing a shot, Deputy Sheriff Matt Starwich and John Linger, heading a determined but exhausted posse, late yesterday afternoon, in the snowbound fastnesses of the Cascade mountains south of Stampede pass, closed in on Mike Pettigrew and John Beavien, Serbian bandits, and captured them.

With the taking of Pettigrew and Beavien, the former suffering from a gunshot wound in the left leg, was brought to a close a special posse was sent out to the Tracy hunt, and the Sontag Evans flight in California, the most exciting chase of its kind in the annals of the West.

Wearied With the Chase.

The capture was made between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday, and the tired desperadoes, with their prisoners, fled from hunger, exposure and the strain of their long flight, after resting a short time, painfully made their way to the southward toward Martin station on the main line of the Northern Pacific, where they arrived shortly before noon today. The prisoners were brought to Seattle this afternoon and taken to the county jail.

Pettigrew, who was wounded in the fight Saturday between Starwich and Storey and the outlaws at McLean's camp No. 5, is suffering much pain from his wound, and blood poisoning may result.

After reaching the summit of the mountains yesterday, the deputies rapidly gained on the Serbians and soon had them at their mercy. Seeing that their flight was useless, the wounded man sank into the snow and his uninjured comrade, standing over him as if to protect his friend to the last, held up his hands in submission to the approaching officers of the law.

"Throw down your pistols," cried Starwich in English, and the fellow evidently understood, for he dropped his weapons in the snow and, with a slung of his shoulders, surrendered.

COOPER AROUSES INTEREST OF QUEEN CITY RESIDENTS

An adequate idea of the intense interest which has been aroused by young Mr. Cooper during the past year with his theories and medicines is given in the following article which appeared in the Cincinnati Post while Cooper was in introducing his ideas to the people of that city. The article says: "The beginning of Mr. Cooper's second week in Cincinnati gives every indication that he is to enjoy the same astonishing success here as in other cities."

"From the first day of his visit the crowds that call to see him have steadily increased, until now it has reached a point where several thousand talk with him each day. The entire city seems to have become interested in his theory that the human stomach is degenerate, and he abounds in an army of followers in Cincinnati who seem positive that his claims are correct."

"A number of Cincinnatians were interviewed at Cooper's headquarters on Friday, and several interesting statements, showing their intense faith in Cooper's preparations, were secured. The following are selected from these statements and are characteristic of them all: Mrs. M. E. Emerson of 433 West Court street, said: 'I have suffered with stomach trouble and constipation for a year or so. When I ate I would have bloated spells, sour stomach, fermentation, bad taste in my mouth. In the morning I was as tired as when I went to bed. I had a dull pain in the lower part of my back. I have taken almost one bottle of the New Discovery and am so wonderfully improved that I have come down here to thank Mr. Cooper in person and obtain more of the medicine."

"Another individual interviewed was Mr. J. H. Brooks, living at 527 Walnut street, who had the following to say: 'For the past eighteen months I have been a constant sufferer from catarrh of the head and stomach. My nasal passage would become inflamed and sore.
I would have severe headaches, which affected my eyes, and great crusts of matter would drop into the throat, causing an irritation of the bronchial passages, until the stomach finally became poisoned. When I would lay down at night a phlegm would gather in my throat until it almost choked me, and would cause an annoying cough. Half a bottle of Cooper's New Discovery gave me relief, and the next day the cough was finished. I felt like a new man. I am now completely cured and consider Cooper's New Discovery the greatest catarrh, blood and stomach remedy in the world."

The Cooper preparations have been wonderfully successful throughout the United States. We consider them remarkable medicines and would be pleased to explain the nature of them

Joyous Silk Waist Encourages Punch at Wife's Unoffending Nose

The picturesque divorce case of Johanna Moller against Nicholas Moller came before Judge Armstrong, in the Third District court, Tuesday. Mrs.
Moller asked for a decree on the ground of cruelty. Moller denied that he had ever been cruel to his wife and alleged that the only trouble they had experienced during their matrimonial career was occasioned by the attentions of Alfred Jensen to Mrs. Moller. After Mrs. Moller filed her action for divorce Moller retaliated with a suit against Jensen for alienating Mrs. Moller's affections. Moller values the affections of his wife at $25,000.

Mrs. Moller testified, Tuesday, that she was married to Moller in this city October 4, 1901. Later, she said, they went to Germany and returned here less than a year ago. While in Germany, in September, 1902, her husband, as she alleged, grabbed her by the hair and jerked her about at the same time slapping the baby. The end came February 22, 1903, when, according to the testimony of Mrs. Moller, she went on a shopping tour and returned home with a suit of which she was exceedingly proud.

Moller, she said, did not like the waist. He thought it decidedly too "valetudinous," and he suggested that it would be better for her to wear a waist of more somber hue and devoid with her Bible a little often than to disport herself in clothes of such gladness. By way of impressing those views upon his wife, Moller then, his wife said, gave her a vicious punch on the nose, after which he locked her in a room and went away from the house.

She climbed through a window and never went back.

All the acts of cruelty alleged by Mrs. Moller were denied by the defendant, who cannot speak English sufficiently well to testify in that language. He told his story through an interpreter. When asked if he pulled his wife's hair in Germany, he said that he did not, unless he pulled it while combing it. He also denied that he hit his wife on the nose at the time of the waist incident. All the trouble between himself and wife, Moller said, was caused by Alfred Jensen.

Shortly before the noon recess it developed that Moller and his wife had not been residents of Salt Lake a year immediately preceding the filing of the divorce suit, and Judge Armstrong said that he doubted if he had jurisdiction in the matter. When court opened at 2 o'clock in the afternoon he announced that he would decline to grant a decree of divorce, but, upon the consent of the attorneys in the case, he granted a decree of separate maintenance and directed Moller to pay his wife $15 a month. Moller was also directed to pay his wife's attorney $40.
Moller is a cabinetmaker and a senior of his wife, who is only 23 years of age. As the result of an accident, which he sustained some days ago, Moller appeared in court with one arm in a sling.
